Conserve Paper

The American people have rightly been urged to do two things since Pearl Harbor. One is to avoid propaganda and the other is to save waste paper. The two seem to go together. While much propaganda has come to us by word of mouth, a lot of it has been printed. That is the kind which can easiest be avoided. This in itself would constitute a saving of waste paper.

But the propaganda we are advised to avoid is principally enemy propaganda which comes generally in whispers. There is considerable propaganda, however, which comes to us from legitimate sources. Perhaps it would be rather more polite to call it "publicity."

The government itself is releasing tons of publicity. It is designed to acquaint us with the various activities of the government. Since politics is "adjourned" now, of course its authors and distributors have no selfish motive. Rather let us believe they are seeking to bolster public morale by giving us releases of the governmental activity. But the fact is that a great deal of this so-called "publicity" could be done away with without injuring public morale in the least degree. And to do away with it certainly would aid the campaign to conserve paper. In a recent address Senator Taft of Ohio, pointed out:

"I suggest that we forget propaganda and forget the artificial creation of morale. Our people are not discouraged. They don't need to be cheered up. . . . There are scores of publicity bureaus operating in Washington today. Last December newspapermen counted 5,000 people engaged in handing out publicity, spending more than $30,000,000 a year of the government's money. There are at least six or seven different publicity bureaus handing out information on war activities: the office of government reports, under Lowell Mellett; the Division of Information in the office of emergency management; Bill Donovan's office of Coordinator of Information; Nelson Rockefeller's office of Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs; the Army Bureau of Public Relations. The office of Facts and Figures was set up under Archibald MacLeith to coordinate the others and only succeeded in adding one more agency. Only last Saturday, James M. Landis announced he was creating an independent publicity agency for that organization which seems to be principally a publicity agency itself. . . . In my opinion we could and should abolish all but two publicity bureaus in Washington today."

There are some ways in which paper could be saved without making it waste paper.

Belle Righter Passes Away In Oakland

Last rites were held this morning from the Congregational church for Mrs. Belle L. Righter who passed away Tuesday at the home of her son George, in Oakland.

Rev. J. H. Bennett conducted the services and spoke words of appreciation of Mrs. Righter, who was one of the charter members of the church. Mrs. Worthin Grat-tan and Mrs. G. S. Robson sang, accompanied by Mrs. Irma Sanders.

Serving as pall bearers were family friends, G. S. Robson, T. A. Cutting, Gilbert Newcomb, T. A. Robinson, Carl Field and Dr. W. I. Merrill. Interment was in Los Gatos cemetery.

Mrs. Righter who was the former Miss Belle Lutes, was born near Cincinnati, Ohio, July 15, 1857, and in 1879 was united in marriage to Francis Marion Righter, who passed away in 1929.

Following several years of teaching in various places in California and other states Mr. Righter bought a ranch at Campbell which is now the Del Patio tract, where the family home was established in 1887 and remained such until his death.

Mrs. Righter was the mother of two sons, George Lutes and Cornelius Edwin Righter, both of whom graduated from Stanford and are teaching, George in Oakland and Edwin in Burlingame.

Mrs. Righter was an earnest Christian worker, an active member of the W. C. T. U. for many years, and a member of the Country Woman's club, of which she was made an honorary member upon leaving Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Righter were outstanding examples of the fine, educated, sterling pioneers who settled so much of our country and helped form the character of new communities.

Listening Post Now Operating

Campbell's listening post went into active service yesterday morning with the first observer beginning duty at six o'clock. The shifts are of four hours each, for the 24 hours around.

Men have signed for the night hours and women have been asked to take over the daylight time.

Any others who are willing to serve may register at the high school office and will be assigned to duty as occasion needs. Some may be named as alternates to relieve in case of necessary absence of an appointee.

This work is considered by the army as one of the most vital of the civilian defense program.

Election Oddity

The winning candidate received less than half the total popular vote in 12 presidential elections in the United States. In three, he received less than the opposing major party candidate.

A MISTAKE IN LOCATION

Red Cross Unit Transferred to I.O.O.F. Building

The Campbell Red Cross sewing unit has transferred from the library hall to the dining room of the Odd Fellows building. The move was made necessary because of the black out of the first meeting place, which was done in order to rent it evenings.

Mrs. Ray Wood, now general chairman, expressed the appreciation of the unit for the free use of the hall for the past 16 months and reported that over 1000 pieces of finished work had been turned in.

The group is meeting on Wednesday afternoons, but as soon as more material arrives, the Friday meetings will be resumed.

Sigma Club to Meet Tuesday

The Sigma Sigma club will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, March 24 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Dunt-on, 1571 Keesling avenue, with Mrs. Myrrl Block as co-hostess.

Miss Dorothy Merriman president of the club will open the business meeting and all committees in charge of the musical concert and tea to be held on April 1 will be asked to make their reports. All members are asked to be present as this is the last meeting before the concert and all plans must be completed at this time.

To conserve transportation members will assemble at the home of Miss Merriman not later than 7:30 p. m. that evening and pool their cars.

Blue Racer, Blacksnake Same

Blue racer is another name for the blacksnake, a common colubrine snake prevalent over eastern North America from Canada to Florida. Specimens from the West and Southwest represent a distinct color variety, exhibiting a more or less bright olive green with the whole under surface greenish white to bright yellow. This accounts for the names blue racer, yellow bellied and green racers.

Edwin Kersgard Graduates from Technical Unit

Private Edwin E. Kersgard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kersgard of Campbell, has been graduated from the army air corps technical school at Sheppard Field, where he has been attached to the 317th technical school squadron.

Prior to enlistment in the army, Pvt. Kersgard, a graduate of Campbell High school, attended San Jose State college, where he was an important member of vocal music groups. He will be assigned to one of the technical units attached to the army air corps.

Toney Shelton Enlists In U. S. Air Corps

Toney R. Shelton of Campbell, son of Mrs. Minerva and the late William H. Shelton, was one of the 150 young men who took their oath of office as cadets at the west coast air corps training center, Moffett Field.

The new cadets will not begin primary training for about two months and then will be sent to some training cadet school in the west coast corps training center.

Toney graduated from Campbell High school with the class of 1938 and studied at San Jose State college.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS MEET

The Camp Fire Girls under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Becker, have given two dollars to the Red Cross and one dollar to the emergency hospital fund.

Contributions are requested of material, used or new, suitable for making bandages and wash cloths.

A check for six dollars was received from the community chest to help in the girls' work.

'Music in America' Theme of Club Meeting Monday

Members of the Country Woman's club were treated to an especially entertaining and educational program on Monday afternoon.

The program was opened by the club chorus singing American songs. First they sang their theme song "United States of America." Next was "Love's Old Sweet Song" and they closed with a humorous and timely medley of typical old fashioned American songs. This group should be highly complimented for its outstanding work. Guest singers were Mrs. Earl Buck and Mrs. Howard Church.

Alma Lowry Williams of the music department of San Jose State college was guest speaker and spoke on "Music In America." She sketched the beginnings of various types of music in the United States. The pagan Indian music was the first real American music. The hymns of the Pilgrims was the next and vastly different type of music. From that time on music differed in various parts of the country. The lovely Southern melodies and pioneer songs were developed from their environments. In California religious mission music and the gay music of the Spanish influence was developing. Said Miss Williams, "Throughout our history we find that customs and music are integrated."

The decorations of the room were charming and carried out the old fashioned theme of the day. An old stone well with the "Old Oaken Bucket" were part of the decoration. A quaint white picket fence and trailing blooms enclosed

Patty Whitmore Hostess to Friend at Party

Miss Patty Sue Whitmore was hostess to a group of friends Friday evening at a St. Patrick's party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bryce Whitmore on Campbell avenue.

The decorations were in the color of the day and refreshments carried out the theme. Games were enjoyed throughout the pleasant evening.

Present were Barbara Putman, Eva Mae Lobrovich, Marilyn Spencer, Patty Whitmore, Wayne Buck, Junior Gazey, James Cunningham and Bud Whitmore.

A son, Robert Allen, was born March 11, at San Jose hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Becker and Miss Martha Parr spent a very enjoyable week-end with relatives and friends in the valley and at Yosemite where they witnessed a ski tournament.

Wives Surprise Kiwanians On St. Patrick's Day

If they were "doubting Thomases" before, the members of the Campbell Kiwanian club were convinced Tuesday that women can keep a secret, when they gathered for their regular luncheon and found their wives all assembled to greet them and enjoy dinner and the program.

The surprise was planned as a celebration of St. Patrick's day and was a complete success.

The tables were bright with green streamers and bouquets of daffodils in green covered holders, and the popular color appeared in items of the menu.

Willard H. Van Dyke introduced the program participants who presented the following numbers:

"My Hero" from the Chocolate Soldier, "A Prayer" from Cavaleria Rusticana, and "The Song of Tralee" were sung by Miss Teresa Conetto; Russell Wolfram played a violin solo, "Meditation" from Thais, and obligatos for two of the solo numbers.

Miss Lois Frisch, accompanist for the soloists, also played "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" by Jerome Kern.

C. P. Klassen, vocal instructor at the high school, broke his custom of not singing solos for his brother Kiwanians and sang "One Fleeting Hour" and "Shortnin' Bread."

Guests and visiting Kiwanians were Mrs. Etta C. Allison, whose husband, Ralston Alison was the first president of the club, Mrs. Edna F. Smith, Don Krough of the P. G. & E., president of the 20-30 club of San Jose, Prentiss Brown, Los Gatos club, and Joseph McKinnon, San Jose club.

Cyril Peterman, manager of the Sprouse-Reitz store was introduced as the newest member of the club.

Perfect attendance lapel tabs were presented to Mark Purmort for 11 years and to Ralph Hyde for 15 years.

Chaplain Norman Goldberg of the U. S. Army will address the club next week, his topic "What of the Future?" Joe C. Agostinho will preside.

Service Club Will Hold Session 25th

The Women's Service club of Campbell will hold its next meeting, Wednesday, March 25 at the home of Mrs. Hazel Kennedy on Phelps avenue. It will be a 12:30 pot luck luncheon, with Mrs. C. E. York Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke and Mrs. Bessie Porter, cohostesses. Each member will bring her own table service and let the hostess know if she will not be present.

If in need of transportation call Mrs. Milton Robertson.

Bring quilt blocks, thimble and scissors for work on the quilts for the emergency hospital.

Ration Day Ahead!

THE SUGAR RATIONING program is ready to go! Upward of 150 million ration books have been drawn up, printed and distributed from Penobscott to Calexico. Bearing no mention of sugar, but only the significant title, War Ration Book One, these cards will shortly provide every American household with a pass-key to the nation's stores of sugar.

For several reasons, the first rationing program since World War I finds sugar at the top of the list in World War II. Last year our supplies of sugar were tapped for one million tons more than normal. Our sugar imports from the Philippines, amounting to another million tons yearly, have been halted by the war and supplies from Hawaii, for the same reason may be less. Meanwhile, a considerable portion of the Cuban crop has been purchased by the government for conversion into molasses and the production of alcohol which is vital to the making of munitions. In addition, we have pledged supplies to our partners in arms, England, Russia, and Canada.

Even at that, America's sweet tooth will suffer far less keenly than that of countries abroad. If householders and housewives have trouble keeping their ration books from getting lost, remembering how much sugar they have on hand on registration day, or using up their ration stamps before they become invalid let them give a thought to the grocer. He must take on piles of additional bookkeeping, check all his customers' stamps in his ration cards, keep doubly careful watch on his stock because he's rigidly rationed, too. On top of this, selling sugar in new small amounts means his packaging costs, per pound of sugar, will increase four times!

So when Ration Day comes, let's spare the grocer! He, and you and I, are all in this war together. If you want to point the finger of guilt, level your aim at Hitler, Hirohito and Benito and hit the culprits!

BUSINESS REVIEW

Campbell - Los Gatos - San Jose

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Los Gatos, Calif.

Whether or not you are in business it is a smart practice to maintain friendly relations with a bank and particularly an independent bank which is owned and operated by people living in your vicinity.

Independent banking is the American way of banking. It is the foundation upon which our nation has built its marvelous growth and has been a most important factor in the industrial and agricultural development of these United States.

The customer of an independent bank deals directly with the heads of the business rather than with an agent which of course is a big advantage at all times and particularly when applying for a loan.

The size of a bank does not indicate its safety. Good management in any business and particularly a bank is the best assurance of safety. In The First National Bank of Los Gatos we find all of the above conditions prevail and it offers every service that is consistent with conservative management. Its officers, directors and employees who are all local residents cordially invite you to talk over your financial requirements with them.

The First National Bank of Los Gatos is of course a members of the Federal Reserve Bank and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Last Rites for Charles Huffman Held Saturday

Charles W. Huffman who had made his home in Campbell at 82 Dillon avenue for the last ten years, passed away Tuesday, March 10, in a San Jose hospital where he had been taken the Saturday before.

Mr. Huffman was born Feb. 8, 1857 in Missouri. He was an old time miner and it was in a mining accident that he had suffered the loss of his foot.

He is survived by a brother, Edward C. Huffman of Santa Rosa, a brother Walter A. Huffman and a sister, Mrs. Lulu Hudson, both of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Rutherford Funeral Home, under the auspices of the Seventh Day Adventist church with which he was affiliated, with Elder A. O. Sage officiating.

David F. Rutherford sang, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "In the Sweet By and By," and the pall bearers were Ben Zweigle, Jack Zweigle, Ralph Anderson, Otto Anderson, Rollin Coburn and C. C. Curry.

Interment was in Santa Clara City cemetery.

LOS GATOS CEMETERY

Graves and Lots Sold to the Public

Is ideally located on Los Gatos-Almaden road, Los Gatos, where nature in all her grandeur makes a lovely setting for this cemetery.

To build a cemetery for a rapidly growing territory as we have here takes not only large capital, but a live organization to keep it up. This is a modern burial place; one of permanent, enduring beauty and sure of perpetual care and up-keep by a special fund set aside for this purpose.

Every effort is made here to soften the sorrow of the bereaved, where understanding and sympathy abound. The management has taken every precaution to make it possible for people to make burials in harmony with their religion and principles.

Drive out and see for yourself the beauties of nature, the nearby mountains so vividly visible and the natural beauty of every nook and corner in the Los Gatos Cemetery.

If you want a choice lot in the Los Gatos Cemetery, see the management at once or write for information as to location, prices, etc.

It is a modern memorial resting place for loved ones, beautifully landscaped and presents an excellent appearance at all times of the year. Phone Los Gatos 874-J-2.

M'Donald Recital Event of Friday

Jeanette MacDonald's recital coming Friday, March 20, in the civic auditorium, San Jose, is attracting devoted "fans" of the adored star from every direction. Miss MacDonald's rare concert tours have been attended with as spectacular success as her pictures, a typical press review being, "... added to her vivid personality is a voice of entrancing loveliness, fresh, free, clear and warm, with unusual volume for a lyric soprano. . . ."

At the piano for Miss MacDonald will be the famous pianist Giuseppe Bamboschek, who in his many years as conductor at the Metropolitan opera has coached and accompanied almost every great musical personality of the last and this generation, including Melba, Destinn, Scotti, Caruso, etc. The noted pianist is devoted to Miss Mac

by marty

"Places" by Hilaire Belloc.

Here is a book, once you have read it, that will become a happy experience for you—an experience that will claim an exciting space in your memory. Why? There are many answers to that question.

First, it has been said by those who know the author that it is doubtful whether any living man has seen as many places, or has seen them with wider-open eyes and wider-open mind than Hilaire Belloc.

And in the second place, the author has built his book from brief essays. Now, I know that some of you will shy away from essays. There are some of us who do not read essays to be entertained but read them to learn something. These essays both entertain and teach you. They are short and quick. By quick I mean that they say a great deal in a few words.

And in the third place, I believe that it is the author's easy manner in writing that wins you over to going "Places" with him. Many a travel book is best enjoyed if the reader is comfortably seated by a roaring fire with a box of candy at one hand and a glass of water at the other. But not this one. Mr. Belloc, without any persuasion on his part, takes you by the hand and you go with him, excited and enthralled.

There is one chapter, let us call it an essay, "On Wandering," wherein the author says "I have wandered all my life, and I have also travelled; the difference between the two being this, that we wander for distraction, but we travel for fulfillment." Just by reading this book you can do both—travel and wander at the same time. And one of the most attractive virtues of the book is that each chapter is short. They cover only six pages at the most for each one. There is not a lengthy mass of description to skip or stumble over to see the city or country that the author is describing. It seems to me that his descriptions are embedded in his word probings, his diggings for knowledge of the real places where things happened in the past.

From the author's home in England to Stockholm, Danzig, Warsaw, Cracaw, Avignon, The Ardennes, and some two dozen other countries and cities and rivers, you will have visited when you have read "Places."

Fair Association Reelects Officers

The Santa Clara County fair association held its annual meeting Monday at the civic auditorium in San Jose, at which the entire group of officers and directors was re-elected.

The officials are Frank C. Mitchell, president; Leslie J. Blake, vice president; Mrs. Benjamin H. Campbell, vice president; Joe E. Ayer, vice president; Ed Zwiernlein, vice president; William H. Pabst, Sr., vice president; Noa S. Cayle, treasurer; and Russell E. Pettit, secretary.

Dorothy Maynor To Sing in San Jose March 27

Dorothy Maynor, the amazing Negro soprano whose startling voice has electrified the continent the last two years, will conclude the sixth annual San Jose Concert Series with a recital in the civic auditorium, San Jose, on Friday evening, March 27.

A native of Norfolk, Virginia, and daughter of a minister, Miss Maynor received her first musical experience in the choir of her father's church. At fourteen, she entered Hampton Institute and went to Europe with the institute's famous chorus. Modestly anticipating no greater career than that of a teacher, Koussevitzky of the Boston Symphony heard Dorothy Maynor's voice and recognized her as one of the singers of our time. Her recital as soloist with the Boston Symphony was but the first of her spectacular appearances with all the great orchestras of the country, and the beginning of her solo recitals. That was a little more than two years ago.

Today Dorothy Maynor is one of the few great singers of the age, her vivacity, gaiety and bubbling good humor charming her audiences wherever she appears.

Tickets for the Maynor concert are on sale at the auditorium box office, Col. 7087, San Jose.

'Watered Stock'

"Watered stock" got its origin, it is believed, with Dan Grew, a cattle dealer during the Civil war, who sold his cattle by the pound after they drank a quantity of water.

THE FIRST STARS AND STRIPES

This is the first Stars and Stripes. The Continental Congress on June 14, 1777, resolved: "That the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." According to legend the five-pointed stars were designed by Mrs. Betsy Ross.

FIFTEEN STARS AND STRIPES

With the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union two stars and two stripes were added to the flag following an Act of Congress in 1794. It was a flag of 15 stars and 15 stripes over Ft. McHenry that inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner." Congress in 1818 restored the original number of stripes.

WHEN PERSHING HONORED MACARTHUR 23 YEARS AGO—This picture, made on a blustery March day in Remagen, Rhemish Prussia, shows the commander of the A. E. F. pinning the Distinguished Service Medal on General Douglas MacArthur then commanding the 84th Brigade, 42nd Division. The photo is from the World War files of the U. S. Signal Corps.

This was General MacArthur's second decoration. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action in March, 1918. He also wears the Silver Star Medal with six oak leaf clusters. A bill is pending in Congress to award him the Medal of Honor.

Mrs. Rose Hanger Is Hostess to Pundita Circle

On March 16, Pundita Circle met for its regular session at the home of Mrs. Rose Hanger, with Mrs. E. K. Clendenning and Mrs. Florence LaMontagne assisting. Mrs. W. S. Thomas, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. L. J. Carboni read the "Meditation" adopted by the club women.

The nomination committee for the election of officers for the ensuing year was chosen.

Mrs. Carboni gave a report of the garden section, which met last week with Mrs. Gussefeld of Santa Clara as guest artist and was most interesting.

Mrs. Earl Booker as music chairman accompanied the ladies in the singing of "America the Beautiful" and then introduced Mrs. Kenneth Robinson who played two solos on the piano, "Dark Eyes" and "Shepherd's Serenade."

Mrs. Clendenning read a paper she had prepared on the subject of the day, "Commerce and Trade."

As an honored guest was Mrs. Ralston Alison, who was one of the first members of the club and still keeps her membership. She gave the club an interesting talk about her home and children.

Mrs. LaMontagne, who has been in the south all the year, also spoke of her home life there.

A social hour and refreshments completed the afternoon. Mrs. D. H. Cramer was welcomed back after her long the choral stand. Spring blossoms of various colors were arranged attractively to make the room appear a bower of spring time. These lovely decorations were obtained through Miss Winnie Grizzle and Bob Scholz.

The committee in charge of the program was Mrs. David F. Rutherford, Mrs. G. S. Robson, Mrs. C. P. Klassen, Mrs. E. P. Brandenburg, Mrs. W. C. Bohnett and Mrs. M. E. Purmort.

Mrs. G. E. Jeffers presided at the business meeting preceding the program. Mrs. Luella Ryan, Mrs. H. E. Hancock and Mrs. Walter Elkey were voted in as new members.

Dr. W. I. Merrill spoke a few words concerning the observation post which is being established. Women are to be in charge during the day time. All women of the community are urged to donate a few hours of their time to this important service. Mrs. Ralph Hyde will register anyone who is interested.

The next meeting of the club will be an all-day pilgrimage to the Stanford campus and a visit to the home of Pedro de Lemos. Tea will be served at the home of Mrs. Francesco de Lemos. Mrs. Nellie Rutherford is in charge. The ladies are to meet at 9:30 on April 6, in front of the club house.

absence due to illness.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Pardee on Sunnyside avenue on April 1.

Residential Gas Users Should Know about Limitation Order L-31 by the War Production Board to curtail Consumption of Natural Gas

Effective March 1st, 1942, the War Production Board placed certain restrictions upon the use of natural gas for home heating purposes. In general this order reads as follows:

Limitation Order L-31 prohibits the delivery by the gas company and the acceptance by the customer of natural gas or mixed natural gas and manufactured gas for the operation of central heating equipment (or heating appliances supplying the major portion of the heating requirements of the premises) unless such equipment was installed prior to March 1, 1942, or unless, in the case of new construction the equipment was specified in the construction contract and the foundation under the main part of the structure in which the equipment was installed was completed prior to March 1, 1942. This order applies to all users of gas, including residential customers.

To clarify the terms of this order as to its effect upon residential gas customers, let us interpret its meaning:

1 Gas heating equipment can be installed in homes WHEN IT REPLACES worn out gas heating equipment having a heating capacity equal to or greater than that of the gas heating equipment being installed.

2 Gas heating equipment can also be installed in homes WHEN IT SUPPLEMENTS other sorts of heating equipment which will continue in service as usual provided that the newly installed gas heating equipment has a heating capacity less than that of the heating equipment being supplemented.

3 Gas ranges, gas water heaters and gas refrigerators can be installed and used without restriction.

This company pledges strict compliance with the terms of Order L-31 and asks the cooperation of all customers.
